QUOTATION

"Neither a borrower or a lender be,
For loan oft loses both itself and friend;
And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry."

This above all, to thine own self be true;
And it must follow, as the night the day,
Thou canst not then be false to any man."
—Hamlet Act I, Sec. 3

THE SITUATION AND OUR PROBLEMS

The United States produces more than half the copper used by the world, nearly half the iron and sixty per cent of the cotton. We have coal, zinc, lead and a multitude of other things which are listed as raw materials.

Europe would like to buy our copper at twelve or fourteen cents a pound and sell it back to us in electrical appliances at from two to twenty dollars a pound. Europe would like to buy our raw cotton at twelve cents a pound (about the present price) and sell it back to us in gloves, hosiery and cloth. Europe would like to buy our iron at a low price and sell it back to us in cutlery, guns, and other manufactured forms, even down to fish hooks. Europe would like to buy all our raw materials, pay for them with a part of the goods made from them and sell us the rest for the gold we are digging from our mines. England would especially like this because most of the transportation, both going and coming would be in English ships, oil burners, using another of our raw materials.

Ours is the richest nation on earth. In fact our wealth is considerably more than one-third that of the entire world. We have gained much of our wealth by selling raw materials, but the greater part of it has been attained by manufacturing developed and carried on by people who have a genius for organization, invention and skilled workmanship. Notwithstanding all our natural advantages business in this country has been shrinking in volume for several months. The first reason given for this is that the cost of labor is much too high. In many lines of industry we believe this is true. In many others employees have accepted a reasonable reduction. If wages were immediately reduced to the level of ten years ago immediate business disaster would follow and even the most ardent advocate of near free trade would be able to comprehend that if American labor is forced to compete even handed with foreign labor wages will be lower than they have been since the days of James Buchanan.

It is inevitable that wages will fall to a level lower than at present, but reductions cannot be safely made without due consideration of, at least, the actual needs and rights of the millions who work and whose earnings pass quickly into the channels of business. In other words, all the penalties which are to follow our orgy of waste and extravagance should not be paid by labor. Monopolies must be put under control. Capital must cease to profiteer at the expense of labor and of the public. Both private and public graft must be made impossible. Economy in the expenditure of public money should be more than a soothing phrase to cover extravagance. Our system of taxation should be revised and in place of the welter of these and other faults existing in our business and governmental affairs there should be evolved a system of reform which would restore the prosperity of former days.

NAVAL DISARMAMENT.

This country has 33 battleships and battle cruisers built and building. Great Britain has 35 ships of the same character. When we have completed the program authorized in 1916 we shall have a decided advantage over the British in tonnage, on an average about 3,600 tons per ship. In our main batteries we shall have 340 guns to 314 for them. Our guns will average a little larger in caliber than theirs and if all these guns were to be discharged at once ours would hurl 548,000 pounds of metal as against 452,000 pounds. In the secondary batteries our guns will number 494 to Britain's 526, but our guns will be larger and more effective. We are to have 322 destroyers, Britain will have 350. Each will have about 150 sub-marines. Assuming that the personnel of officers and men are equal in skill and courage we would have a considerable net fighting superiority.

As long as we are leading any other nation in naval strength it is plain that we ought to take the lead in the way of naval disarmament at least to the extent of inviting other nations to join us in consultation for the purpose of making agreements which would reduce the number of war vessels and the immense naval budget. The first step has been taken in this direction. Representative Rogers of Massachusetts has introduced a resolution urging President Harding to invite Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan to a disarmament conference to be held in Washington. We have no doubt that the resolution will pass both houses of Congress and the President will doubtless invite the powers to send representatives to the conference.

Of course no nation will consent to a complete naval disarmament, and we think there are some fundamentals on which the United States should insist in any plan for a limitation of naval armaments. First, the American navy should at least be the equal of any other. The United States is, today, the foremost world power. This and the necessity of protecting our Pacific coast, the Panama Canal, our island possessions and our Atlantic coast must be taken into account. To defend these from even the navy of a third class power would require a strong navy. No nation in the world has a coast line on which and behind which there is so much wealth as in this country of ours. Second, the American navy should always be superior to that of any Asiatic power. The outcome of discussions regarding naval armaments will depend almost entirely upon positions taken by those nations most powerful on the seas, the United States, Great Britain and Japan. If an agreement between these can be reached large sums of the people's money can be saved. The logical and proper course to bring about a reduction, of course, will be to stop building new ships and retiring the older types of vessels from service.

Our new law relating to motor vehicles and the law of the road fills about nine and a half newspaper columns and is divided into 97 sections. Profiteers and those who had army contracts can afford to hire a lawyer to accompany them when they go motoring, but there are few of the readers of The Journal who can do that. We advise them to procure a copy of this law and begin to study it at once. Most of its provisions will take effect soon after the fourth of July. All the time an otherwise busy man can spare from now till then will be needed if he qualifies himself to be his own automobile lawyer.

"Big Bill" Hayward was a leader of the I. W. W. He was arrested, tried and convicted of violation of the espionage and selective service laws, which, if not treason, was near treason. He was sentenced to serve 20 years in the Leavenworth prison. He had been one of the most dangerous leaders of revolt against our government for a long time. We do not know why he was not immediately taken to prison instead of being released on bail of $20,000. As might have been expected he forfeited his bail and disappeared. It is said he has gone to Russia. If he starts anything over there he will face a firing squad.

The immigration bill recently enacted by Congress will no doubt shut out a great number of undesirables. The new law is to be operative for only 14 months. If it works well it can be re-enacted with amendments if amendments are needed.

Thanks and praise to Belgium, the hero nation, who at the cost of her own martyrdom stood steadfast at Liege!

Thanks and praise to France, who for long, weary years, dammed by the tide of Hunnish barbarism with a rampart of the bodies of her glorious sons!

Thanks and praise to Britain, who made at Ypres a new Thermopylae, and who for four long, weary years made all earth's seas a greater Marathon!

Thanks and praise to Italy, the renaissance, to Japan the newly risen, to Serbia, to Portugal and Greece, to Brazil and Cuba, blazing the way of Latin-America into the council chamber of the world, and to every nation, great or small, that stood for freedom!

Thanks and praise to the people who were not yet free nations, Poles, Czechs, Slavs, Jews, and who not else, who from their bonds struck with fettered hands brave blows for freedom and humanity!

Thanks and praise to the sons and daughters of this Republic, who gave their all to guard its rights and freedom, and to aid all other neighbor nations to win a like estate!

Thanks and praise and everlasting glory to Almighty God, who, of His infinite mercy, hath brought salvation to this Republic and to all nations of mankind!

Peters of the third district has recently been appointed chairman of the select committee authorized by the Kahn resolution to make an investigation to fix the responsibility for the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll. This is considered a distinctive honor not only to Rep. Peters but also to the State, for he was selected out of the 435 members to the chairmanship of a committee considering a matter of such national and international interest.

ELISHA BROWN.

Mr. Elisha Brown died at his home in Morrill, April 24th, of Bright's disease with complications, aged 64. He was born in Knox, April 25, 1857, son of the late Charles and Lydia Cushman Brown. His parents moved to Morrill when he was a small lad and his residence has always been on the old homestead. In 1899 he married Miss Ruth Glidden Noyes, and together were born two sons, Lester C. and Erian N. During his long illness he was lovingly and tenderly cared for by his wife and sister, Mrs. Matia Wadlin. "Lisha" as he was called by old and young, was a man beloved by all. Always kind and thoughtful, no sacrifice was ever too great for him to make for others. In 1883 he was baptized and united with the Morrill Baptist church, being one of its faithful and efficient members, living the true Christian life to the end. What greater tribute could be paid to his life, than that given by a little boy, when asked what was his ideal of a Christian man? The answer came promptly, Lisha Brown. He was an active and faithful worker in the Morrill Sunday school, being assistant superintendent since the death of Dr. Pearson. A carpenter by trade, we can look about us and see much of the work of his hands. He was "a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." He was always ready and willing to do his part and a portion of the "other fellow's" in every good work. A loyal citizen to his town, serving many years on the board of selectmen. Truly a good man has gone to his reward. He leaves to mourn their loss, besides the wife and two sons, one brother, Horace of Lawrence, Mass., one sister, Mrs. Matia Wadlin of Belfast, one step-brother, Mr. Ira B. Chandler of New Haven, Conn., and several nieces and nephews. Private services were held at his late home Wednesday at 1 o'clock p. m. and public services at the Morrill church at 2 o'clock p. m., Rev. Wm. Stetson of Waterville and Rev. Nathan Hunt of Morrill officiating. Three favorite hymns of the deceased were sung by the choir. The flowers from the family and the many relatives and friends were abundant and very beautiful, silent testimonials to the love of all. The bearers were Marion, Frank and Wilbur Brown, Forrest and Charles White and Ed. Sheldon, nephews of the deceased. Interment was in the village cemetery. The following from out of town attended the services: Horace Brown of Lawrence, Mass., Forest White of Holden, Mass., I. B. Chandler and wife of New Haven, Conn., and Mrs. Brown's brother, Lambert Noyes, of Marlboro, Mass.

SPANISH WAR VET HAD A CLOSE CALL

TROUBLES WERE GETTING WORSE
EVERY DAY SAYS KENNEDY—
TANLAC RESTORES HEALTH.

"I'm now enjoying good health for the first time in years and don't hesitate to give Tanlac credit for setting me right," said William G. Kennedy of Togus, Maine, a veteran of the Spanish American war. "I suffered terribly from indigestion and stomach trouble and went to the hospital several times, but only got a little temporary relief. My troubles kept getting worse and at one time I thought sure I was a goner. I had no appetite at all, and even the little I did eat caused me awful acute pains. Gas formed in such quantities that it pressed around my heart until my breath was nearly cut off. The small of my back ached dreadfully and rheumatism in my arms and shoulders kept me in constant pain. I was so nervous the least little thing annoyed me and at night I was so restless and miserable I could scarcely sleep."

"I started taking Tanlac on the advice of a friend and it has only taken four bottles of the medicine to rid me entirely of all my troubles. Yes, sir, Tanlac has certainly done the work for me, for I now eat fine, sleep fine, feel fine and am enjoying the best of health."

Tanlac is sold in Belfast by Read & Hills; S. J. Glidden, Freedom; S. M. Grant, Sandpoint; A. M. Ross, Lincolnville, and by the leading druggists in every town.

Ralph H. Howes has had his residence on Church street most attractively painted in Colonial yellow and brown tones.

The family at the Home for Aged Women were recently made very happy with a large lot of beautiful mayflowers sent by Mrs. C. B. Hoit of Liberty.

Rev. Fr. John E. Kealy of Lewiston was in Belfast Thursday on his way to Castine on business in connection with the building of the Catholic church in that town.

Capt. A. C. Batchelder, who recently returned from Boston, where he spent the winter, has taken a rent in the Vickery tenement house at the corner of Church and Bridge streets. Mrs. Batchelder will arrive home early in May.

A flower hunt May first in the vicinity of Lake Umbagog resulted in finding blue, white and yellow violets, hepaticas in pink, white, purple and blue, bellwort, bush honeysuckle, strawberry and blueberry blossoms, dandelions, shad bush and mayflowers. The clintonia was also found with well developed buds.

The Boy Scouts and the Rangers of the Baptist Sunday school, accompanied by Rev. George C. Sauer and with Earl Ness as umpire, played the first of a series of base ball games on the Congress street grounds last Saturday forenoon. Naturally the Scouts won, but the little Rangers held them down to 29 to 25. It was some exciting near the close of the game, when the Rangers led by one point.

The Journal in connection with the big celebration of the anniversary of Black's New England Theatres announces the contest of skill in which all the readers of this paper can participate. In brief, in this issue we print a large display of advertisements which readers can look through to see how many "9s" they are able to find. The person finding the most "9s" of different sizes will win a prize. To the person finding the most "9s" we will give six tickets for any night during the week of May 9, to the next highest number four, to the next number two. Answers can be left at the box office at the Colonial Theatre.

Louis Towers of Burnham was before Judge Clyde R. Chapman of the Municipal Court Friday charged with passing worthless checks, was found guilty and committed to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury at the September term of the Supreme Judicial Court. He was arrested in Rockland and it is alleged that he is wanted in Somerset county for the same offence. He is alleged to be guilty of passing the following in Waldo county: Coombs Bros. Belfast, $15; Oakes Aldus, B. Hest, $5; George Turner, Belfast, $6.10; E. T. Whitehouse, Unity, $1; a $6.10 check cashed in Freedom and a $10 check in Burnham. All were drawn on the Lewiston Trust Co.

In renewing his subscription to The Journal H. L. Massure, a former Monroe man, now in Ames, Iowa, gives some interesting bits about the weather and cost of provisions and land. He says: "We had a very mild winter, but April 'spilled the beans.' On the 15th we had quite a heavy rain and the 16th colder with snow, almost a blizzard. Corn is selling at 38 cents; oats, 28 cents; hogs, live weight, 7 cents; hay, $15; eggs, 20 cents. Winter wheat is looking fine. These prices are hard on the farmers; a little more than one third the cost of production. More oats have been sown than in any previous year. Not much land is being sold at present. Some sales have been made at $200 and up per acre; in some sales it has reached $500, when the improvements were very modern and the land located near some large city."

The following added attractions will be presented at the Colonial Theatre Anniversary week (the week of May 9): Monday will be Ladies' Night. A box of Schraff chocolates to each of the first hundred ladies. Tuesday the Metropolitan Concert Company. Wednesday a special prologue will be presented, Friday a concert by the Belfast Band; Friday the Harmony Boys in Twenty Minutes of Minstrelsy. Saturday will be Orchestra Night with McKen's Orchestra. It will be a week of big times with no advance in prices. MOTHERS! ATTENTION! The Red Cross implores you to cut out from your children's wardrobes any outgrown clothing or any other strong, whole garments of any kind that may serve to clothe the millions of fatherless children in Europe whose pitiable plight, we who have not seen it, cannot imagine. The demand is very urgent. Waldo county, in addition to 100 layettes, must furnish 240 garments for children ranging all the way to fourteen years of age. If such garments can be procured ready made it will help greatly. Already several ladies have volunteered to be responsible for from five to ten garments each. Are there not many in the county who could furnish at least one or two? Many suggestions have been sent showing how old stockings and socks, underwear, sweaters, and even flour sacks, cretonne curtains, and portieres—in fact, any strong, clean cloth can be utilized to make good, warm clothing for children. It is a great challenge to ingenuity. Please see what you can do. In the meantime please telephone any member of the committee, whose names are given below, for information, if you desire it, or let them know that you will be responsible for a certain number of garments. Miss Maude E. Mathews, chairman Red Cross, Mrs. Essie P. Carle, chairman Public Health, Mrs. Clement W. Westcott, Mrs. James C. Durham, Mrs. Ansel M. Lothrop, Mrs. John R. Dunton.

Two young brothers, Henry and Ray McGowan, claiming Neponset, Mass., as their home, were before Judge Clyde R. Chapman of the Municipal Court Saturday forenoon on charge of Sheriff Frank A. Littlefield for entering the summer home of J. H. Gillette in Lincolnville. They were found guilty and were sent to jail to await the action of the Grand Jury in September. Sheriff Littlefield through the assistance of the stage driver from Lincolnville located the boys on Main street and after a few questions decided to arrest them. They protested that they were innocent, but on the way to the jail attempted to dispose of loaded revolvers which the sheriff located. He also found under the cushion of his car they were taken in a large screw driver and a bunch of skeleton keys. Later he found their diary where they had kept record of five breaks in Massachusetts and also what they had stolen. Henry claims to be 22 years old and has with him a dishonorable discharge from the Navy. Ray says he is 17.

BOYS' CONVENTION. Boys' Clubs, Boy Scouts and church clubs of all kinds should at once get busy with their leaders or the pastor of the church in their town making arrangements for the convention to be held at Belfast, June 3-4-5. Boys of Waldo county, this is the greatest opportunity you have ever had to get for yourselves a good time and a lot of useful instruction which will help you as long as you live! Get busy at once talking this over with father, mother, pastor, leader, and the boy next door to make sure that you are on the list of those who will have a place and a part in all the good things which the Belfast business men are providing for you. We are told by some men that there are no boys in some of the towns in Waldo county. Wake up and set things going and prove that you are awake and alive to this opportunity! H. A. Peters, who has been in Belfast several years as foreman of the lasting room in the local shoe factory, will leave soon for Vassalboro, where he expects to go into business with A. W. Miles, also for several years a foreman in the finishing room in the factory.

Dr. Elmer Small was called Saturday afternoon to No. 28 Bridge street to attend the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Elwell. The little fellow had fallen from the third story window of what is known as the Moore house and was suffering from concussion of the brain, the only injury from the fall. He had a very narrow escape from landing on a large pile of wood and some lumber piled near the basement. He had recovered consciousness Sunday and Dr. Small has hopes of his complete recovery.

TERRIBLE CASE OF ECZEMA

Prominent Veterinary of Dover Suffered Tortures for Twelve Years

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" and "Sootha Salva" Finally Brought Relief

Dover, N. H.

"In 1906, I began to be troubled with Eczema. It started on my face and gradually spread. The second summer, I was so badly afflicted I had to lay off work. I would keep my hands tied up at night to prevent digging into my flesh while asleep. I spent hundreds of dollars in seeking relief. I would go for several months without trouble and then the Eczema would break out again and I would be in for a siege of suffering. My hands, especially across the knuckles, would be so puffed and swollen I could not do any obstetrical work or operations.

It was about three months ago I chanced to read an ad. of 'Fruit-a-tives' about a person being cured of Weeping Eczema by using this remedy and 'Sootha Salva'. I bought both and in about a week, noticed an improvement. I have now used two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and one of 'Sootha Salva' and am entirely free of Eczema. My flesh is clear and smooth and I am that gratified with the result that I cannot proclaim too loudly the merits of these remedies'.

E. N. OLZENBAM, D. V. M.

Both remedies are sold at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. At all dealers or sent postpaid by FRUIT-A-TIVES Limited, OGDENSBURG, N. Y.

Over There and Here

Mr. Charles M. Schwab of the U. S. Steel Corporation, recently returned from an observation trip to Europe. The following is an extract from an address to the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York a week ago today:

"Germany today can put a ton of steel in England at a price $20 a ton cheaper than England can make it," he said, "and is selling pneumatic tires in Detroit, where formerly we shipped such machinery to Germany and sold it cheaper than she could make it.

"The difference is solely a matter of labor costs.

"It is estimated that five million men are out of work in this country. It is accordingly of supreme importance to the working man as well as to the capitalist to restore our prosperity.

"Never before was the need for products so great, never was such valuable producing machinery and facility available, never before was there so much that needed to be done.

"I have just returned from Europe and I came with renewed admiration for the courage, the enterprise and the determination displayed in Italy, Belgium, France and England. Germany was ahead of all of them in production.

"Is it possible that after having won the war, we of the allied nations, with everything in our hands, will allow Germany to win the peace through the efforts of her labor?

"Labor on the whole can be paid only what labor as a whole earns and if some sections of labor exact more than their share of the current produce of the world, other sections are going to suffer. I understand that our railroads today pay to labor over 60 cents out of every dollar received. The labor cost of making a ton of steel today is 85 cents out of each dollar of total cost.

"Labor costs underlie our railroad difficulty. They are the cause of excessive railroad rates. We formerly sold pig iron at a profit at about $14 a ton. Today the total freight rates involved in making a ton of pig iron are more than $14.

"But the railroads cannot give service even at present rates with their existing costs.

"Railroad costs must come down and it is in the interest of national prosperity that our government, acting through the labor board and every other agency shall reduce railroad wages and bring costs down to a living point.

"The same situation confronts our merchant marine. In operating, building and repairing ships, labor costs are hopelessly high. That this is true, is shown by the millions of tons of shipping now lying idle, the great number of shipyards with no work to do and the hundreds of thousands of idle shipping and shipbuilding men.

"Insofar as our people in America are prepared to go to work at reasonable wages, insofar as we are prepared quickly to abandon the artificial extravagances of the war, will we lay the foundations for a new prosperity such as we have never enjoyed before.

"This is the route through which not merely America but the peoples of our allies can find their way out and triumph in peace as they did in war."

Tuberculosis Facts

Tuberculosis is curable. It is not inherited but it is infectious. These facts should be known by every citizen of Maine, says the State Department of Health. Two of them hold a decided measure of hope while the third, namely that tuberculosis is infectious, should sound a needed word of warning to patients suffering with the disease to take care that they do not spread it to family or friends. These facts form the basis of an intelligent campaign against the "white plague."

An Appeal for Our Public Schools

Throughout the country, teachers are now being selected and salaries fixed for the coming year. Hundreds of thousands of public school teachers will be employed during the next few weeks. In recognition of the momentous importance of this fact, the National Education Association has given out the following appeal to school boards and citizens:

This is no time for extravagance in governmental expenditures. Appropriations should be carefully scrutinized and all unnecessary items eliminated. The times demand the application of the best business principles in the conduct of public affairs.

However, there can be no retrenchment in the support of education. Money wisely expended for this purpose is an investment in citizenship and an insurance against the revolutionary conditions which exist in countries whose peoples are ignorant and illiterate.

Our free public school system is an integral part of our free government, essential to its life and prosperity. The only secure foundation for democracy is an enlightened and intelligent electorate. A government of the people and by the people can be no better and no stronger than the citizenry of which it is constituted.

This fact was recognized by the far-seeing statesmen who founded this Nation. William Penn declared that the only way to preserve free government was by the education of all its citizens, "for which," said he, "spare no cost, for with parsimony all that is saved is lost." Washington urged his countrymen "to promote as objects of primary importance institutions for the general diffusion of knowledge." Jefferson, Adams and Madison taught that the education of all the people furnishes the greatest safeguard for our free institutions.

The greatest need of our country today is competent, well-qualified teachers to train the future citizens of the Nation. We must get rid of the incompetent and unprepared in our public schools. The schools of tomorrow should be taught only by the best, and the profession of teaching must be made so inviting that it will attract and hold the best. Any reduction in the salaries of teachers or any failure properly to appreciate the importance of education will turn from the teaching profession these young men and women now preparing for their life's work who should be secured for this most important field of public service.

Let us cut down expenditures for luxuries. Let us reduce appropriations wherever it can be done with safety, but for the perpetuity of those ideals and principles which are nearest to the hearts of the American people, there can be no backward step. The development of a strong, intelligent, patriotic citizenry, upon whom must depend the preservation of the things for which we have made such sacrifice in blood and treasure. The hope of America is in her free public schools. To elevate their standards and promote their efficiency should be the purpose of every American statesman and citizen.

The Salvation Army.

The art of remaking souls is not the only kind of reconstruction work which is being carried on in all the principal cities of the United States and particularly in New England by the Salvation Army.

To prove this one has but to visit one of the Industrial Homes and stores that are operated by the Army. There one will find all sorts of articles for sale, from Susie's last year's hat to father's old suit, all fixed up, remade, ready for additional wear again, and all being sold at prices which seem impossible.

At the Salvation Army stores in Boston, men's coats sell from 35 cents to $1 and there is an endless variety. Suits that are torn too badly to be repaired are in constant demand, for the wife whose husband has only a moderate salary, can pick up a suit or two for a dollar, and then Jimmie, Willie and Fred can all have fresh clothes made from the material.

"No goods sold to dealers" is the sign that is prominently displayed, for these institutions, like all the others, are conducted solely in the interest of the poor. Frequently a business firm will phone to the officer in charge and tell him that a lot of hats can be had for the car to come and haul them away. True, they are generally last season's hats, but the thrifty wife can buy a new hat for a quarter and then with her own needle make it over till it looks like a 1921 model.

Books of every kind, detective stories as well as the works of standard authors, are on the shelves. They are all sold from a nickel. Many of them are shipped direct from the stores to the Army Homes. In a shipment sent away a few days ago, were works by Conan Doyle, Charles Dickens, Sir Walter Scott, Alexander Dumas, Richard Harding Davis, O. Henry, and others, whose writings men love to read.

As to the class of people who patronize the Salvation Army stores, they come from all parts of the poorer districts of the cities. Many families depend upon the store to replenish their supply of clothing in these days of high prices and the store is a veritable Godsend to the breadwinner of a family who has five or six hungry little mouths to fill and who finds his weekly envelope barely sufficient to pay the rent and grocery bill. If persons are worthy in many cases, articles are furnished free of charge, for there are very few fixed prices, the customers only pay what the can afford.

IMMIGRATION

According to the census there were in the United States in 1920 over eight hundred thousand less Germans than there were in 1910. The total population of foreigners in this country, foreign born, in 1920 was 13,708,987, an increase of 2.1 per cent over 1910. Of these Asia contributed 110,586. We had here Italians to the number of 1,607,458 and they are shown to be on the whole a very desirable element. Russia had here 1,398,999, mainly Jewish. We had of Irish born 1,035,680, some of whom doubtless believe the other hundred and four million of us should turn to and free Ireland. But there were more here who were born in Great Britain, the number being 1,332,967, some of whom are radically opposed to our freeing Ireland.

Although the increase of 2.6 per cent of foreign born is compared with the increase of 14.9 per cent for the previous decade seems to suggest no menace or to call for restrictions to our immigration we must not lose sight of the fact that conditions last year were not what they are this; that opportunity had not been afforded for the influx now threatening. That decade of small increase many foreigners were ready to fight, many since 1914 had been for the same reason prevented from coming here. In Ireland prosperity had kept many at home. Really no comparison may be made and even a two per cent increase is not desirable at this time when several million of our own people are out of employment.

Wanted—A man for hard work and rapid promotion; a man who can find things to be done without the help of a manager and three assistants.

"A man who gets to work on time in the morning and does not imperil the lives of others in an attempt to be first out of the office at night.

"A man who is neat in appearance and does not sulk for an hour's overtime in emergencies.

"A man who listens carefully when he is spoken to and asks only enough questions to insure the accurate carrying out of instructions.

"A man who moves quickly and makes as little noise as possible about it.

"A man who looks you straight in the eye and tells the truth every time.

"A man who does not pity himself for having to work.

"A man who is cheerful, courteous to everyone and determined to 'make good.'

"A man who, when he does not know, says 'I don't know,' and when he is asked to do something says 'I'll try.'

"A man who does not make the same mistake twice, who is not a goody-goody, a prig or a cad, but who does the very best he knows how with every task entrusted to him.

"This man is wanted everywhere. Age or lack of experience do not count. There isn't any limit, except his own ambition, to the number or size of the jobs he can get. He is wanted in every big business from Maine to California.

OUR WONDERFUL AROOSTOOK.

From the preliminary announcement from the census regarding the value of the crops harvested in 1919 by counties it appears that Aroostook county, Maine, stands second in the list of the whole country being second only to Los Angeles county, California. The bureau reports the value of the crops harvested in Los Angeles county in 1919 to have been $62,212,843 of Aroostook county, $52,541,205, and of San Joaquin county, Calif., third in the list, $39,749,032. This is a remarkable showing for the great county of Aroostook.

LEGION MEN WANT P. M. FIRE!

Lincoln (Neb.) Post Takes Exceptions to Government Official's Demand for Use of German.

A resolution requesting the government to relieve Henry C. Jarns, postmaster of Emerald, Neb., from his office was passed by Lincoln (Neb.) Post No. 3 of the American Legion, as a result of the postmaster's efforts to supplant the American language by the German language in a church of Emerald.

The trouble started when the pastor of the church invited two Legion members to deliver patriotic addresses in the church. When the speakers appeared, Jarns objected to their presence and called for a vote of the congregation to decide whether they should be ousted. It was the will of the majority that the Legionnaires should not be heard. After the vote, the Legion members quietly left the church.

The pastor, whose invitation to the Legion men was made in an endeavor to conciliate the pro-German and American elements of his church in their controversy over the use of the American or German language, then took the floor and expressed his surprise at the turn of events and left the meeting.

In commendation of the patience of the American Legion members a Lincoln newspaper expresses the following sentiment in its editorial columns:

"The policy of the Legion to send speakers to address meetings on invitation only and to teach Americanism by example rather than by force, has everything to commend it. The small groups of unassimilated foreigners in this country can readily be curbed into compact masses by hate. On the other hand, they can be dissolved in time by patience and friendship. The American Legion is honoring the name it bears when it adopts the latter course."

In Harmony With Legion.

Following an address by Robert A. LaRoux, national field organizer of the American Legion before a joint session of both houses of the Nevada legislature, C. W. Farrington, state organizer for the American Federation of Labor in Nevada, and a number of union members of the bodies stated that they were in harmony with the Legion's policies and that their organization stood with the Legion in its fight against radicalism.

NORTHPORT

M. B. Whiting has been quite sick with the prevailing grip cold.

Mrs. J. D. Mortimer arrived May 1st to occupy her new cottage which has been built at Kelley's Cove.

Mrs. Charles Mahoney, Jr., arrived from Rockland Saturday to join her husband. They expect to occupy the Greenlaw, formerly the Carleton cottage, this summer.

Mrs. Effie Morris, accompanied by her nephew, Sidney Mendall, left Saturday for Augusta. They have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Mendall, Sidney having spent the last three months here with his grandparents.

The roads have been in bad shape after the recent heavy rains. It is impossible to keep an ordinary clay road in shape with the frost coming out and so much rain. A State road is badly needed between Brown's Corner and Little River and to Belfast.

APPLES TO BE SCARCE.

In view of the reports of great damage to orchards of the South and Middle West, due to the freeze the last week in March, it behooves Maine farmers to give special care to spraying their trees and grading and marketing their apples, for high quality fruit is likely to bring good prices next fall.

This is the opinion of Prof. H. P. Sweetser, head of the department of horticulture at the University of Maine. He has just received a letter from a big fruit farm at Waynesboro, Va., asking if he knows any orchardists in Maine who would like to hire some expert fruit men this summer.

DON'T FORGET

That Mary Jane, the Department's hospital doll, who is now touring Maine in the interests of better babies and their proper care, is available to anyone for demonstration purposes as to how to bathe and clothe an infant. Make use of her in your town.

Also make use of the Health Department stereoscopic lectures, consisting of fifty slides each on such subjects as child welfare, baby care, etc., at your service.

Echoes From Clubdom

The April issue of Clubdom is the most interesting in regard to Waldo County clubdom.

A MOTHER'S OPINION
In sending you a letter I received from one of the mothers," wrote Mrs. B.
Clark, leader of the Uncle Sam Club in Belfast, and she added, "If there were more club work would be a great help."

The letter referred to was from a mother in a neighboring town who had received an application card for her son, and for others in the neighborhood and for a few more cards for prospective members. She expressed a willingness to help by meeting with them fortnightly or monthly. The remainder of the interesting letter is as follows:

"When everyone felt about club work it would be a 'scrap' to see who would come first as leader. I wouldn't boast if I gave up the work for anything. In just a year he cleared a cash of $40, beside having about $20 more poultry than he started with,
I hope he will do even better this year."

"The twins tease the life out of me to be a 'club' and 'do something.' I have not had a mind to write to Mr. Donald and ask if it would be possible to be the two as one. They are only seven,
a boy of ten has got to be quite busy with more than the two of them."

PROVINCING ANOTHER STATE CHAM-PION.
Another who headed the list of Maine
clubs in club work last year is entirely deserving of mention. Fernie Clark of Thorndike, who had the most score of all the county champions in the garden project, has been sponsored by much sickness, and her club is, therefore, all the more valuable. It was because of this illness that she was obliged to give up at the time of the State Academy, but she has been keeping up her studies at home and doing very well.

There has been in the Knox Club two years a great worker and, with the help of a brother, who is also a club member, she has raised a splendid garden project. She is very enthusiastic in her plans for this year and intends to enter in four projects. She already has planted a number of tomato plants started.
She is very proud to be a member of the Knox Club, the first club in the county to win a national seal of achievement.

Robberies Cost Roads $2,000,000
a Month.

Railroads of the United States lost $104,000,000 in 1920 from robbery of freight and damage caused to freight,
the latter due chiefly to negligence of employees and defective equipment, according to figures presented at a conference of 75 freight claim agents and operating officials in the southeast. Loss in robberies alone amounted to approximately $2,000,000 a month it was declared.

Your Chimney

Is it of Proper Height and Size to Secure
Best Results? Millions of Dollars
Wasted With Bad Ones.

It matters not whether you are operating a cook or heating stove, furnace, steam or hot water heating plant, you cannot obtain economical and satisfactory results without a proper chimney.

Oxygen, (ordinarily spoken of as air) is as essential as coal to proper combustion and a proper amount mixed with fuel gases will deliver a maximum degree of heating results as a proper mixture of oxygen, (or air), in an automobile carburetor is necessary to its greatest degree of power.

These results can only be obtained by a chimney, or flue, of adequate proportions and favorable conditions as regards surrounding objects.

In these days of high coal costs every one is anxious to extract every unit of heat from every pound of coal possible and utilize it where desired or needed most.

Almost invariably when the heating
man is called in and asks about the chimney, the house or building owner says,
"my chimney has a beautiful draft."

In many cases this is true, while at the same time his chimney might efficiently operate a small heater which would heat part of the house this same chimney would not efficiently operate a larger one of sufficient capacity to heat the whole house or building.

In other words, a chimney four inches square and ten feet high would have a good draft, but not sufficient to operate even your parlor stove, (or a forty horse power steam boiler).

Cast no reflections upon the knowledge and integrity of those who design and build chimneys, too often little apparent thought is given to what may be required of chimneys and flues.

As to the average brick mason it is easy to comprehend not an extensive amount of book learning is necessary to lay up brick. A plumb eye perhaps is one of the greatest requirements.

Probably the first and most important qualification of an architect is an abundant imagination or conception of a building which will look good and please, but it is fair to expect too much of one man, especially in these days of specialization, and expect an architect to be highly experienced or versed in all branches of building construction?

Would not an architect's office be more efficient if composed of several men skilled in the various branches of building construction. Good architects today are giving the chimney question careful study, so be sure your architect is correct on this point, when building.

If your proposition does not require the services of an architect be sure and consult a competent heating engineer. You will save many dollars, (and lots of cuss words) even if you have to pay for service rendered.

Millions of dollars have been wasted in fuel, discarded stoves, and heating apparatuses, as well as much labor attending fires and other endeavors to make things go right.

Good square straight flues, one for each piece of apparatus, so far as possible, do not collect soot, catch fire nor burn out, thereby endangering buildings.

The beautiful results and operation of a good chimney are an everlasting joy and comfort to the house and building owner and will easily save the cost of construction over bad ones in a very few years.

REAL PILOT NEEDED.

A New York divine had occasion to officiate at a christening in a small fishing village in Massachusetts. When the time for baptism arrived, the clergyman noticed that the embarrassed father was holding the child so that its fat legs pointed toward the front. "Turn her this way," he whispered.

But the father was too disconcerted to hear or understand.

"Turn her feet around," the minister whispered again, but there was no response.

An old seaman in the back of the church came to the rescue. Putting his weather-beaten hand to his mouth, he roared across the room: "Head her into

FATHER FOUND TWO-YEAR-OLD BOY VERY SICK

Was Thin, No Appetite, Had Swollen Lips, Stomach Pains, Itching Nose.

A banty woman and enthusiastic fisherman, Joseph K. Lane of Lincoln, Maine, has a very interesting record to report. He writes: "As a boy, thirty-seven years ago, I began to take Dr.
True's Elixir. Once after six months itching legs, I came out of the woods and found my two year-old boy very sick.

He was thin, had no appetite, had swollen lips, pains in stomach, an itching nose, was suffering from constipation for months.

"I had not been in the house an hour
when an elderly lady—a good neighbor—
came in and told my wife to get a bottle of Dr. True's Elixir, saying she had seen numbers of similar cases which it had relieved.

"My boy was given a half dozen doses of Elixir when he passed a lot of little worms, and right away began to show improvement; he began soon to eat with a relish, play around and look healthy.
He did not have to take a full bottle, and in later years, whenever he got off his feed, a few doses would straighten him out quick.

family of six children, and he has practically raised his family on Dr. True's Elixir. The children go out and get hold of something not good for them, and so when they eat something and get sick, the Elixir is given and the family is put in good shape again.

MR. HOOVER SAYS:

In the long run, we may as well realize that we must face a lower standard of living in Europe many years ahead. The production costs of her people will in consequence be lower than even before the war. If we meet this competition and still maintain our high standard of living we will have to work harder; we will have to eliminate waste, we will need to still further improve our processes, our labor relationship, and business methods.
If we would so improve our national efficiency and our foreign trade we must consider our transportation, both railway water and marine, as one system directed to serve the nation as a whole. The development of certain trade routes through our mercantile marine as the real extension of our inland transportation; the improvement of great waterways; the opening of the Great Lakes to ocean-going vessels; the development of great electrification of our power necessities; and the handling of our labor readjustment by moderate men on both sides are all problems that have a fundamental bearing on the recovery in commerce and on our ability to compete.

Bible school at 12 o'clock and the Christian Endeavor at 6.30. Thursday at 7.30 the mid-week service. Strangers in the city are cordially invited, and the co-operation of friends throughout the community, who are not obligated by duty and interest, to support some other church, is earnestly desired in the growing work of the church.

Sunday, May 8th, is known the country over as Mothers' Day. It will be fittingly observed by this church at both the morning and evening services. The Sons of Veterans and their auxiliary will attend this church in a body at the morning service, as it is their custom to attend divine service together on Mothers' Day. The sermon and the music will be in harmony with the service.

At 7.30 Pastor Sauer continues the series of addresses on "Bible Lessons from Great Story Tellers," of which the following is the schedule for the Sunday evenings in May:

The Bible Lessons of Repentance and the Confession of Sin. From Hawthorne's "Scarlet Letter."

The Bible Lesson of the Terrible Blight of Malice. From Ben Ames Williams' "Miching Mallecho."

The Bible Lesson of the Beauty of Holiness. From Tennyson's "Idylls of the King."

The Bible Lesson of the Use and Misuse of Great Talents. From Browning's "Saul."

The Bible Lesson of the Making of a Prophet. From the Life Story of Abraham Lincoln.

The music at these evening services will be an inspiring feature. The congregational singing will be led by organ orchestra and chorus choir. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

The appointments of the present week are: Monday evening in the small vestry the meeting of the W. N. C. for their missionary study and social. Tuesday evening the orchestra rehearsal. Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Aborn, Cedar street, the meeting of the Ladies' Sewing Circle. Wednesday evening 7.30, the rehearsal of the chorus choir in the vestry of the church. Thursday evening, 7.30, the mid-week service of the church. Friday afternoon in the vestry the meeting of the Senior Bible Class for work; a supper follows. Saturday morning ball games by Rangers and Boy Scouts.

NORTH CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. Rev. A. C. Elliott, pastor; parsonage, 26 High street; telephone, 187.4. Morning worship at 10.45, sermon by the pastor. Church school at noon. Strangers and those without any church home are cordially invited to worship with us and assist in the activities of this church.

The quiet hour devotional service will be held this Thursday, evening at 7.30, plan to be present and bring a friend with you. Your presence will be an inspiration to others, and you need the help and inspiration these meetings supply.

Sunday will be observed in this church as Mothers' Day. A short and appropriate talk will be given by the pastor. Let all members of the parish attend service out of respect for their mothers and wear a flower in honor those dear ones. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed in connection with this service and it is hoped all our members will be present.

Troops No. 1 and 2 of the Boy Scouts will meet with the members of the Boy's Institute in the vestry next Monday evening at 7. The fencing class is proving very attractive to the boys who have joined it, and, so far, they are shaping well. A cordial invitation is extended to boys who are twelve years old to join the institute. The newly organized baseball team will play at Citypoint Saturday afternoon.

A special stereopticon lecture on John Huss and the Land of the Book and Cup will be given in the church Sunday at 7.30 p. m. This is a lecture rich in historical interest and should be heard by all. A collection will be taken to defray the expense of the slides.

SEARSPORT

Miss Christine Eames is at home from M. C. L., suffering with an attack of measles.

Mr. and Mrs. George Buck have returned from a visit with their son, Henry Buck and family, in Newark, N. J.

Mrs. E. D. P. Nickels, who spent the winter months with relatives in Boston and vicinity, arrived in Searsport, Thursday, and has opened her home on West Main street.

An enjoyable sociable was held Tuesday, April 26th, in the Congregational upper vestry by the Sunday school scholars. The proceeds will go towards the Chinese fund.

Donald Vaughan, proprietor of the Searsport Drug store, has installed a fine new soda fountain in his store, which will add much to its attractiveness. The interior of the store has been newly painted and equipped with enclosed shelves, and is now one of the most up-to-date in this section.

W. J. Pullman has been here recently talking up the prospect of starting a pants factory in town. Conditions are very favorable for such a thing, and if plenty of help can be obtained, the scheme will probably be put through. Pullman Brothers will be in town this week and a definite proposition will be made.

Augustus L. Sweetser died at his home on Nichols street Wednesday at 1 p. m., at the age of 68 years. He is survived by his widow, by one daughter, Miss Blanche Sweetser of Searsport, and by two sons, Henry Sweetser of Lake View, and George Sweetser of Derby. Funeral services will be held from his late home Saturday afternoon. Obituary later.

Miss Emma Hichborn, who died at her home in Stockton Springs after an illness of three weeks with pneumonia, was well known in Searsport. She was for a long period of years a popular clerk in Howes' dry goods store, and was well known to many Searsport people in that capacity. Searsport relatives are Mrs. Melvina Hichborn and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Green.

Rev. and Mrs. N. F. Atwood returned Monday from Guilford, where they attended the East Maine Conference. Mr. Atwood has been appointed pastor of the M. E. church for another year, a decision which is very satisfactory, as both Mr. and Mrs. Atwood are very popular in the parish, and their work since coming to Searsport has been of great benefit in many ways.
